TOBACCO MEN FAIL.
The firm of J. N. Wylie & Co., tobacco manufacturers, and that of Swain & Wylie, leaf tobacco dealers, both of which have been in operation in Danville, Va., twenty years or more, yesterday filed in the Corporation Court deeds of assignment, conveying all their realty and personalty of every description to A. W. Douthat, trustee, for the benefit of creditors. Every man connected with the two firms has surrendered everything he owns, their wives uniting in waiving any rights or interests. While the aggregate liabilities is not stated and no details given in deeds, it is understood that these will total slightly more than $200,000. The failure is due to inability to realize on assets and meet certain debts secured by notes and other pressing claims. There is excellent authority for the statement that no other firm will be adversely affected by the joint failure.

It is conservatively stated that the assets of this two firms, if disposed of intelligently, will fully meet the liabilities, and there is hope that a small balance may be left. Mr. Wylie personally has realty assessed at $75,000, and is worth $100,000. Swain & Wylie have more than two thousand hogsheads of tobacco.

When the digestion is all right, the action of the bowels regular, there is a natural craving and relish for food. When this is lacking you may know that you need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They strengthen the digestive organs, improve the appetite and regulate the bowels. Sold by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

DISORDER AT CAMP MEETINGS.
Two negro campmeetings, one in Dorchester county, the other in Caroline, Md., were scenes Sunday and Sunday night of desperate fights, and as a result two negroes were shot, one was beaten into insensibility and a deputy sheriff and his posse were forced to flee for their lives.
At Finchville, in Dorchester county, Deputy Sheriff Brinsfield had been told that one Texas, a negro roadster and desperate character, was on the ground, and that a crap game and whiskey selling were going on. Deputy Sheriff Brinsfield proceeded to the camp-ground and located Texas and a gang of negroes near the camp. Texas espied the sheriff and opened fire, and the bullets flew so thick and fast that Sheriff Brinsfield and his men fled across a field.

Securing guns they returned and made another attack upon the negroes, this time compelling them to flee in every direction. Texas was shot down, but managed to crawl into the woods, and was spirited away by friends. Peter Johns was also shot, but he too escaped. Jacob Frisbie was captured and lodged in Cambridge jail. It is said that Frisbie has told the police of the hiding place of Texas and Johns and their arrest is expected.

At Jonestown, in Caroline county, Thomas Strawsberry was beaten into insensibility by Carl Jones and lies in a critical condition. The fight occurred during services, and Pastor Powell fled from his pulpit when one of the negroes appeared on the ground with a shotgun. The negro fired, but no one was injured. Other negroes overpowered him and took his gun away.

At St. Paul's camp William Johnson was fatally shot by Wilmer Hammon, but it is alleged this was an accident. Johnson was shot in the stomach and died on the operating table in Cambridge Hospital.

KILLED BY A COLORED WOMAN.
James Myden, proprietor of the Little Snug Inn, on west Thirtieth street, New York, was stabbed to death last Sunday night in the kitchen of his home above the saloon. Florence Lovett, colored, employed by Myden as chambermaid, is a prisoner at Bellevue Hospital, charged with the murder.

Myden was attending to the wants of his customers Sunday night when the Lovett woman entered, apparently under the influence of liquor. She seated herself in the back room and made such a noise that Myden ordered her to be quiet.

She sat in sulky silence for a while, but she grew noisy again. "No white man can talk to me like that," those present heard her mutter. Some of the customers showed a desire to have her ejected, but she announced she would kill any man who laid hands on her.

Myden then ordered her to go upstairs to her apartments, and she obeyed. In the kitchen above the saloon the woman grew boisterous again, and Myden left the saloon to quiet her. As he entered the kitchen she leaped at him, a knife in her hand, according to Myden's wife. Her first blow gashed his arm, the second pierced his heart.

Myden's wife grappled with the woman and took the knife away from her.

PROCLAIMING DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPALS.
William J. Bryan, in an address before a mass-meeting at Pueblo, Col., yesterday charged Theodore Roosevelt with having advocated old-time democratic principals in many of his recent addresses on his western tour.
Referring to Roosevelt's Oasawatomie (Kan.) speech on "New Nationalism," Mr. Bryan said:
"The democratic party has proposed this doctrine for 14 years and in 1900 incorporated it in its platform, quite in contrast with the distinguished gentleman, who appears to have just made the discovery that this doctrine is correct and progressive and just. In his expressions regarding railroad regulation, the income tax, swollen fortunes and publicity of campaign contributions, Mr. Roosevelt has merely followed a well-established democratic lead. For years democratic platforms have been clamoring for legislation in this direction."

WOMAN ATTACKED AND ROBBED.
Mrs. Jennie Halliwell, fifty years old, widow of R. T. S. Halliwell, a former state president of the Patriotic Order Sons of America, who for years was secretary of the Valley Forge Centennial and Memorial Association, was attacked and robbed in the bathroom of her home on the river road, near Swedeland, in the vicinity of Norristown, Pa., Sunday afternoon, while preparing to attend the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sands, old friends, in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Halliwell, who was alone in the house at the time, had gone to the bathroom. She had been there only long enough to put on a bathrobe when the door was opened and in walked the robber. As she turned he threw a hand over her mouth and threatened to shoot her if she made an outcry.

At the same time the ruffian dragged her from the bathroom to her bedroom, where he threw her on the bed. She resisted and he struck her heavily in the face with his clenched fist. "Have you a mother?" said Mrs. Halliwell, to her assailant, appealingly. "Yes, I have," said the stranger, "and she gave me this," holding in his uplifted hand a prayerbook with a cross on it.

"But," he continued, "I am desperate now, I must have money." "I have a son," cried Mrs. Halliwell, "and I would hate to think that he would do a thing like this."

While this conversation was going on the robber was opening a dress suit case which Mrs. Halliwell had packed to take with her to Philadelphia. From it he drew a waist, with which he bound her mouth and tied her hands. Her feet he tied with the cord off the bathrobe. As she lay helpless on the bed her merciless assailant took from the bureau a purse containing $16.

He was startled then and dashed out of the house, overlooking a $5 gold piece which lay near the pocketbook, intended as a gift for Mr. and Mrs. Sands.

Mrs. Halliwell struggled for a quarter of an hour before she could release herself from her bonds. Her cries of "Murder!" "Help!" were heard by Hertzog, a grocery boy, who had come to deliver the groceries. He was small and afraid to enter, and ran to the road for help. Mrs. Halliwell was found in the house with her face cut and discolored, a nervous wreck.

EAGLE CARRIES CAT AWAY.
How a monster eagle carried away a 14-pound cat from the deck of the three-masted Somerset schooner Wm. P. Hood, while that vessel was sailing the high seas, was told by the crew in Boston yesterday.

The vessel, laden with railroad ties, was off Highland Light, Friday evening. The captain's cat lay asleep on top of the deckload. There was a sudden flutter of wings and a big eagle descended, caught the cat in its talons and flew away with it.

The captain said the bird had been hovering about the schooner for two hours, but he thought at first it was a big hawk, looking for food, and he paid no particular attention to it. Just as it began to get dark the eagle swooped down and grabbed its prey.
